OPEN CALL

Artists for 2026

In situ Production
& Exhibition

We call for artists to produce, exhibit, and perform in our project space in 2026 over a five-week period. Solo artists, groups and curators are welcome to apply. We provide curatorial support, technical assistance, documentation, and both printed and digital promotion.

Vorfluter aims to make art tangible as a coherent „Gesamtkunstwerk“ by merging art and space in their complexity. Central to this approach is the collaboration between artists and the project space within an in-situ concept to ensure the highest quality in the creation, adaptation, and presentation of works in space.

The focus is on promoting installation-based and multidimensional art, expanding two-dimensional works into the third dimension and beyond.

Located in Berlin-Neukölln, Vorfluter attracts a diverse audience and fosters cultural exchange, which is further enriched through events. Its working approach is process-oriented, emphasizing open dialogue between artists and curators while supporting a dynamic and evolving presentation of art.

If you apply for funding, we are happy to assist with the necessary documents such as invitation letters or concept texts describing the project space.

Please note further information and hand in applications by October 24th, 2025.
